IN THE U.S. SUPREME COURT

Cases Decided at the End of the 1989 Term

Walton v. Arizona, 497 U.S. _____, 110 S.Ct. ____, 111 L.E.2d 511 (1990). Arizona capital sentencing statute providing for finding of aggravating and mitigating circumstances by trial court held valid; statutory aggravating circumstance of "especially heinous, cruel or depraved manner" held not unconstitutionally vague.

Lewis v. Jeffers, 497 U.S. _____, 110 S.Ct. ____, 111 L.Ed.2d 606 (1990). Arizona's "especially heinous, cruel or depraved manner" aggravating circumstance held (1) not unconstitutionally vague as applied to accused's case, and (2) not applied in arbitrary or capricious manner.

Sawyer v. Smith, 497 U.S. _____, 110 S.Ct. ____, 111 L.Ed.2d 193 (1990). Rule of Caldwell v. Mississippi, concerning prosecutor's argument diminishing jury responsibility for death sentence, held not retroactively available to support habeas corpus relief.

For earlier cases decided in the 1989 Term, see Death Row U.S.A., May 30, 1990.

Capital Cases Pending in the 1990 Term

Perry v. Louisiana, No. 89-5120 (argued October 2, 1990). Do the Eighth and Fourteenth Amendments prohibit state from forcibly injecting insane death row inmate with mind-altering drugs when such drugs are used solely in an attempt to make him "competent" to be executed? Does a state's use of drugs to create synthetic competency violate the prohibition against executing the insane announced in Ford v. Wainwright, 477 U.S. 399 (1986)? Is the Eighth Amendment violated if, even with medication, the inmate's competency is unstable?

Minnick v. Mississippi, No. 89-6332 (argued October 3, 1990). Once accused has expressed his desire to deal with law enforcement officers only through counsel, may police re-initiate interrogation in absence of counsel as soon as accused has completed one consultation with a lawyer?

Arizona v. Fulminante, No. 89-839 (to be argued October 10, 1990). Whether "harmless error" or "totality-of-the-circumstances" standard of review should govern question of whether defendant's confession to an inmate-informer was made voluntarily.

McCleskey v. Zant, No. 89-7024 (to be argued October 31, 1990). Should a state that has been proven to have violated the rule of Massiah v. U.S., 377 U.S. 201 (1964), and to have deliberately hidden that violation, be permitted to argue "abuse of the writ" on ground that petitioner should have discovered the state's misconduct sooner?

Ford v. Georgia, No. 87-6796 (to be argued November 6, 1990). Whether retroactive application of the rule announced in Batson v. Kentucky, established in Griffith v. Kentucky, can be avoided by invoking a previously unannounced state objection procedure as a procedural bar?

Parker v. Dugger, No. 89-5961 (to be argued November 7, 1990). Is the application of Florida's jury over-ride standard in an individual case subject to 8th Amendment review? If so, what is the standard of review? Is a constitutional claim procedurally barred when defendant fails to raise it in state collateral proceedings, even though having raised the issue in trial court and on direct appeal?

Yates v. Aiken, No. 89-7691 (certiorari granted October 1, 1990). Does South Carolina's harmless error analysis of Sandstrom errors conflict with the requirements of Rose v. Clark and Carella v. California?

Ohio v. Huertas, No. 89-1944 (certiorari granted October 1, 1990). Whether the Ohio Supreme Court erred in interpreting Booth v. Maryland and South Carolina v. Gathers to require exclusion of all victim testimony during the penalty phase of a capital trial, even when the defendant personally knew his victim and the victim's family.
